Capturing trends is the essence of successful investing.

Trendrating developed a proprietary methodology for rating trends , where A and B identify bull trends and C and D signal bear markets across individual securities.

C and D ratings can be used to either exit or reduce holdings , limiting damages and filling a critical gap in the standard risk management processes.

A and B ratings can be used to validate investment ideas as well as spot opportunities of potential big gainers.
